

A Letter to the Accumulating Class II—You Have a Choice

You, members of the accumulating class, have been warned. For decades, scientists, environmentalists, mystics, and Indigenous stewards have been sounding the alarm: your system is killing the planet. Now, as of September 2025, the oceans have failed a key planetary health check. Acidification has crossed a critical threshold, threatening the structural integrity of marine life. This is not reversible by future “innovation.” No tech-bro will save you from the end. Front and center, this is collapse happening faster than anybody, even the most dystopian scholars, had predicted.

I. Your Regime Has Failed—Catastrophically

It’s not surprising, really. Humans (that includes you) are, in cosmic terms, a baby species, barely out of diapers, bang-banging around the world. The system you built, the Regime of Accumulation—Capitalism by any other name—was never designed for resilience. Exactly the opposite, in fact. It was built to extract, hoard, and control, to feed the “chosen” few. Your metrics (GDP, ROI, stock performance) focus exclusively on extraction of surplus labour value. They are ideologically dislocated from ecological reality and human need.

If you keep ignoring reality, the planet will reach a hard limit, sooner than you think.

It is inevitable, and you know it.

Hence the bunkers.

You have known it for decades.

Your own children see it.

They have asked you to stop.

Instead, you finance carbon offset fantasies, greenwash marketing campaigns, and encourage unfettered consumption. You manipulate your children until they confirm and then you escalate, escalate, escalate; more pipelines, more deforestation, more surveillance, more plane trips, more yachts, and more war. Always more war.

War because war distracts and kills.

War because, like mass consumption, war gives you money to burn.

II. The Accelerating Polycrisis

You have to know, and I know you know, it is more than just the environment. We, the planet and our bodies, face what scholars call a polycrisis, multiple, interconnected crises that converge and amplify each other in a way that causes a “predicament” that is not easy to resolve, to put it lightly.

The biggest crisis here is COVID, a BSL-2 virus that you decided, in service to commercial interests, to let rip. Recent multiple large cohort studies confirm what patients and insiders long suspected:

COVID-19 is not a respiratory illness; it is a whole-system attack. It has multi-system, immunological impacts (ref1, ref2, ref3). It weakens the body, damages organ systems, and makes it more vulnerable to everything.

Oh my lord.

You’ve let COVID spin in the population for over five years now. If current estimates are anywhere near correct, this means billions of people are living with damage that will get progressively worse as time passes.

Like the damage caused by AIDS, this will only start to show up gradually five to ten years after infection.

Sadly, it will be easy for people to miss.

You have created a world of distractions.

You have used corporations to gaslight the population mercilessly.

It will, however, be obvious to anybody that looks.

The body, our body, your body, will begin to crumble and fall apart, just like the planet. Diminished capacities, early senescence, and perpetual sickness will be the tip of the iceberg. Beneath that will be serious organic dysfunctions, organ failure, and even sudden death, all accelerated by the stress your system creates and the plastics your production systems spew into the world.

What do you think is gonna happen when billions of diminished, sick and dying people begin to wake up to the decisions you've made?

What do you think they will do when your distractions no longer work and they realize all the damage you have caused?

You think a digital ID is going to help you control the population?

Is this why you are building your fortresses?

III. The Illusion of Insulation

Of course, you are the quintessential organizers and planners; of that, there can be no doubt. So...

Perhaps collapse is part of your plan.

You are "special," after all.

You are "chosen."

You have a birthright.

Perhaps you think your blood, your genetics, your accumulated wealth manifested into security drones and electrical fences will provide insulation from disease, converging failures, and collapse.

Maybe. But personally, I doubt it.

Despite your propaganda, you're not special, not really.

Your talent, really, is organization. That's all. You can manage the labour, production, and distribution process with incredible finesse.

But listen here: your blood is not going to protect you from what's coming. Not even the most advanced AI will be able to halt accelerating warming.

No amount of organization is going to turn a dead planet back to life again.

You don't want to believe this is true, but in your heart, you know it is. People are already dying and it's just going to keep getting worse.

Global Warming has Accelerated Significantly

Grant Foster and Stefan Rahmstorf (2025 preprint)

Table 1 Ending value in °C, rate in °C/decade

Data	value	rate	cross +1.5°C	cross +2.0°C	cross +2.5°C	cross +3.0°C	cross +3.5°C	cross +4.0°C
NASA	1.45	0.42	2026	2037	2049	2061	2073	2085
NOAA	1.45	0.42	2026	2037	2049	2061	2073	2085
HadCRU	1.42	0.39	2026	2039	2052	2065	2077	2090
Berkeley	1.45	0.43	2026	2037	2048	2060	2072	2083
ERA5	1.54	0.48	2024	2034	2044	2054	2065	2075
Average	1.46	0.43	2026	2037	2048	2060	2072	2084

'The most important insight from these adjusted data is that there is no longer any doubt regarding a recent increase in the warming rate. Although the world may not continue warming at such a fast pace [$\sim 0.43/\text{dec}$], it could likewise continue accelerating to even faster rates.'

Extrapolated presented warming rates linearly after +1.5°C to show additional cross points, by Leon Simons

Do you know what this planet will look like when we breach the +4.0 C point? Here's an AI evaluation for you. It's not pretty. And these projections might yet be too conservative. If there is one thing that characterizes the community of climate scientists right now, it is shock at the acceleration. They don't know WTF.

On our current trajectory, we will soon we will breach all known tipping points.

Once cascades begin (if they haven't already), your fortress will shatter from within. The collapse of the AMOC will shift rainfall belts. The dieback of the Amazon will break down the moisture conveyor that sustains global climates. The Antarctic sea ice decline already amplifies warming. Each broken threshold magnifies the stress on every other system. Carbon emissions are accelerating, not declining. The entire global system will collapse. It is only a matter of time. When it does, when marine ecosystems collapse, when climate change wipes out global harvests and billions start to go hungry, no amount of technology, no amount of capital, will save you or the predatory operating system you've mistaken for intelligence.

It won't matter that you can control all the social media.

It won't matter that you've got an army of armed thugs.

You are not going to be able to stop the people from seeing you for who you have become, not “builders” but destroyers—high priests of planetary sacrifice—architects who suicided the entire human race just so they could have another big yacht. When it becomes clear to the people that survival is at stake, you will not be able to hide.

The old imagery of peasants with clubs and pitchforks is from another time.

You won't be fighting peasants with pitchforks. You'll be facing the engineers, doctors, teachers, and technologists — the very people who built and now maintain your systems. These people know how the infrastructure works. And they know what you've done. When the veil drops, you will not be protected by your wealth or your weapons.

IV. Help Birth a New Global Consciousness

It doesn't have to be this way. We can change, but we need to. change fast, and the fastest way it through reconnection to the Fabric of Consciousness, because disconnection from The Fabric is the root of our crisis. All other crises, environmental, political, psychological, cascade from this primary severance.

In order to do that, in order to foster reconnection, we need a new Comprehensive Framework, something that can change our collective thinking. We need a new framework for human civilization — one that prioritizes connection, not domination.

It's not rocket science. We need

- A post-accumulation economy centred on satisfaction of humanity's Seven Essential Needs, not greedy accumulation, and we need it now.
- A new planetary ethics grounded in strict non-violence (Ahimsa) toward all beings.
- Medical and psychological systems focused on healing all the damage caused by the Toxic Socialization.
- Thoughts and practices that lead to authentic re-Connection, and not the watered-down nonsense (positive psychology, mindfulness, etc.) we see now.
- A Symbiotic Planetary Knowledge System devoted to human development and the actuation of full human potential, untainted by your twisted ideology (I'm talking to you here, Elon).
- A global movement of awakened humans willing to put aside your system and help build a new world.
- Community ownership of land, labor, tools, and governance — including worker cooperatives, public-interest infrastructure, and decommodified housing, food, and care.
- Regenerative systems that repair ecosystems, protect biodiversity, and stop treating the planet like a dead thing to be owned, mined, and sold.

- Media systems liberated from elite control and reoriented toward truth, repair, and narrative liberation.
- The HEALING Framework deployed as a global protocol to end lying, dismantle ideology, and ensure sustained needs satisfaction at every level of society.
- A global upgrade in human consciousness, raising the Consciousness Quotient (CQ) through various Connection Practices so we can see clearly, feel deeply, and act ethically.
- A conscious transition culture — one that prepares for collapse without panic, honours death as part of the cycle, and treats this moment as a planetary rite of passage.

V. You Have One Choice Left

You can keep fighting if you like and just pray that your system will continue and that your cash will help you survive all the storms. It's not an unreasonable thought given how resilient your system has been.

Or, you can keep thinking that you are better and smarter.

You can keep pretending that COVID is not damaging your systems.

You can keep thinking that you can survive climate change.

You can keep fantasizing about a sanctuary on Mars.

Or, you can join the transition.

It's easy, and I'm not the first one to say it.

You have one choice left, and it is spiritual at its core:

Renounce the lie of separation.

Abandon the myth of supremacy.

Rejoin the Fabric of Consciousness.

Return what you've extracted.

Redeploy your capital toward planetary repair.

Use your organizational prowess to rebuild a world where Connection, not accumulation, is the organizing principle.

Remember, reconnection is not a mood. It's a mandate. It requires real changes in structure, incentives, and attention. The HEALING work begins when you stop harming, stop lying, and start building something that can last longer than your brand equity.

That's your choice.

Join us.

Help us.

Participate in unification and planetary repair.

Or...

Pray and hope for the best.