

Healing and Activating With the Triumph of Spirit Archetypes

by

Mike Sosteric

Version 1.40

Lightning Path Press

St Albert, Alberta, Canada

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication
Data

Sosteric, Michael, 1963-, author,
The book of triumph: healing and activating with the Triumph of Spirit System / Dr. Michael Sosteric.

ISBN 978-1-897455-62-3 (bound)

ISBN 978-1-897455-61-6 (booklet and cards)

1. Tarot. 2. Archetype (Psychology). 3.
Spiritual healing-Miscellanea. 4. Mental healing-Miscellanea. I. Title.

BF1879.T2S544 2013 133.3'2424 C2013-904878-2

Table of Contents

Introduction.....	5
Getting Started.....	7
Picking a Card.....	9
Study Example.....	9
The Archetypes.....	14
Joyful.....	17
The Calling.....	23
The Master.....	29
The World.....	35
Sacrifice.....	41
The Promise.....	47
Realization.....	53
Strength.....	59
Initiation.....	65
Alignment.....	71
Formation.....	77
Force.....	83
Emancipation.....	89
Passage.....	95
Connection.....	101
Rebirth.....	107
Activation.....	113
Lightworker.....	119
Power.....	125

The Star.....	131
Victory.....	137
Graduation.....	143
Attention Readers and Healers.....	148
To begin an assessment.....	150
General Guidance.....	151
Expanding your Connection.....	153
Spreading the Cards.....	154
Assessment.....	157
Attention LP Students.....	158
About the Lightning Path.....	164

INTRODUCTION

The book that you have in your hand now is one of a several resources devoted to the exploration and dissemination of the Triumph of Spirit Paradigm. This particular books provides an overview of the archtypes in the Triumph of Spirit Archetype System¹ or TOSAS (pronounced TOE-SAS) for short.

The TOSAS consists of a twenty-two archetypes² along with several additional resources designed to flesh out their symbolic and narrative meaning. The TOSAS system is designed to help you replace Old Energy Archetypes that disempower you, make you sick, and keep you disconnected, with New Energy Archetypes that empower you, heal you,

¹ <https://spiritwiki.lightningpath.org/index.php/TOSAS>

² Archetypes are ideas that provide you with answers to big questions, like “Who am I?” or “Why am I here?” If you ask the question, “What is my purpose for incarnating on this planet?” and if you answer the question, “So I can learn my lessons and grow as a spiritual soul,” this answer is an archetype because it answers your big question.

and move you forward towards health and stronger connection.

Old energy archetypes are archetypes that emphasizes force, violence, hierarchy, exclusion, judgment, and elitism. Old energy archetypes are archetypes designed to disconnect the Bodily Ego from Consciousness (a.k.a. The Fabric) and deactivate/damage the Physical Unit in order to make it docile and compliant. Old Energy archetypes encourage Disjuncture, which suppresses Consciousness and prevents it from filling up the Physical Unit.

New energy archetypes are archetypes whose creative intent is the awakening, activation, and ascension of the planet. New Energy archetypes emphasize understanding, awareness, unity, joy, divine purpose, nonviolence, and prosperity for all regardless of any genetic, gender, ethnic, spiritual, or cultural characteristics of the Physical Unit.

Getting Started

Each of the TOSAS books explores the TOSAS new energy archetypes from a different angle. This book shows you how to use the archetypes to help you heal your physical unit. To use the book, simply study the images of the cards, read through the descriptions, and reflect upon the meanings.

Before you pick a card, you should spend a few moments a) preparing your space, b) preparing yourself, and c) setting your intent.

To prepare your space, find or make a safe space. Make that space “sacred” by burning a candle, lighting some incense, laying out some items (a nice scarf, a religious icon, etc.), or whatever. It doesn’t matter what you do so long as you create a space that feels special, where the energy is calm, and where you feel completely safe.

When you are done making your space sacred, prepare yourself. To do that, take a few deep breaths and slowly relax. Close your eyes and inhale deeply, then exhale slowly. As you exhale, visualize all the tension and stress draining out of your body into the earth below. With each deep breath you take, feel your muscles relax. If you like, pass your hands over your body from head to toe and as you do that, visualize your hand scraping black inky gunk from your body both inside and out. Clean and clear your bodily system. As you do that, slow your thinking. Eliminate the nervous chatter of your daily grind. Be safe. Be calm. Be connected.

As you relax, you should also set your intent. The intent for using these archetype cards is to learn new ideas that help you heal and empower. You can set your intent in this regard by saying something like, “What do I need to know now” or “What’s blocking me from moving forward?” or “I wish to learn something important that will help me move forward.” or something like that. Your intent statement sets your direction, so make sure the statement is pointing you forward.

Picking a Card

When you have prepared your space, prepared yourself, and set your intent, next you need to pick a card. At first, I recommend you start at the beginning and read through the book archetype by archetype. This will give you a good overview of the archetypes. Do not be in a hurry to get through the first time. Take the time you need to absorb the ideas.

Once you have gone through the book once, you can use the cards randomly. Say your intent statement, shuffle, and pick a card for “random” study. Find the description of that card, and read/reflect upon the description while considering the image of the card.

Study Example

Below is a typical study process I would use to reflect upon the archetypes.

First, I pick an archetype card. Let us say that I pick the Joyful archetype. I pick up the Joyful card and find the description. When I get it, I read slowly and reflect upon what I am reading. I read the Key Phrase which says “I am Joyful in Manifestation.” This is the basic idea of the new energy archetypes, so I say this out loud to myself a few times. When I am done, I look at the card to see how it related to the key idea and I think “This person is joyful in manifestation.”

When I have the key phrase in mind, I look over the Symbolism. For Joyful, we have a “yellow brick road.” The yellow brick road here symbolizes the road into incarnation, or the road into creation. Seven chakras are visible on the figure and a beam of light connects the figure to the Consciousness above and the road blow, indicating this is a self-designed and connected journey of creation.

Once I have a good idea of the symbols, I read the “Narrative.” The narrative explains the archetype in more detail. For Joyful, the narrative says “this archetype teaches us about our identity and creative journey.” I look at the card and I see I am on a path and so I think, this archetype is about who I am and where I am going. I read where it says “You are a spark of creator consciousness on a joyful creative journey” and I reflect upon what that means. I also see that this archetype contains the idea of a journey. The journey can be spiritual, emotional, psychological, or even physical. I understand from this I am on a journey.

When I am finished the narrative section, I see there are three more sections. The Divination section explains the meaning of this archetype in a “reading” or client assessment.

The Positive and aligned section gives the energy of the card when it is aligned and free flowing. The Blockage and challenge section indicates what it feels like when the energy of this archetype is blocked or corrupted. Compare the two and see where your ideas/energies lie. If you notice blockage, work on those. If you find your energy is free and clear, move on and work on another archetype.

Do this sort of reflective work whenever you draw a card. Do not be too anxious to read through quickly. You want to read slow and think about the ideas present in the card, and you want to absorb them and ground them as thoroughly as possible.

THE ARCHETYPES

Joyful

Key Phrase: I Am Joyful in Manifestation.

Symbolism: A Joyful soul is shown walking the yellow brick road into manifestation. The fractal blue waters of creation support the figure and the road. A beam of light shows a strong connection to Source Consciousness. Seven chakras support the body (and The Body).³ The road emerges from the crown chakra of the figure, indicating that the individual soul constructs its own path into incarnation. This figure is on a joyful creative journey. Before it lies the vast untapped potential of creation.

Narrative: This archetype teaches you about your identity and your creative journey. This archetype answers the questions “Who am I?” and “Where am I going?”

As for who you are, despite what you may have been taught, you are a not a “fool in school” and you are not here to learn karmic lessons. You are a spark of creator Consciousness on a joyful creative journey.

³ https://spiritwiki.lightningpath.org/The_Body.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this archetype depicts the beginning of the journey of your Soul as it enters into a physical body to accomplish its work, the Great Work. You are not alone in this work, nor are you new to this gig. As a member of the family of Spirit incarnated on this world, you are Joyful, Masterful, and Powerful. Embracing light, life, and connection, you descend into physical creation. You Sacrifice so that you might uplift, create, and enjoy.

As for where you are going, you are on a creative and joyful journey. This journey involves physical, psychological, emotional, or spiritual movement towards health and full connection. Physically, this is a pilgrimage or a move. Psychologically, this is the journey to self-awareness, identity, enlightenment, and purpose. Emotionally, this is the journey to emotional maturity, health, and healing. Spiritually, this is the journey to Connection (the journey back home).

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype raises questions about the journey itself.

Are you currently on the journey? How are you doing? Are you moving forward? Are you blocked? If you are are not currently on a journey, this archetype indicates you should be on a journey, or at least should be preparing for one.

Positive and aligned, this is a journey well met. Physically, psychologically, spiritually, and emotionally, you are willing to undertake the journey, or you are already on your way towards healing and connection. There is lots of work, but if you stay motivated and alert, seek guidance and accept assistance on healing and connection, keep an open mind and keep your intent pure, you will make good progress forward. Friends, family, co-workers, and life situations support your exploration, and support who you truly are. You have what it takes to travel the Path.

Blockage and challenge: Do you feel blocked? Feelings of unworthiness and incompetence prevent you from realizing the joyful and creative nature of your true self. Are you afraid? Fear and misunderstanding hold you back and prevent you from taking action. Perhaps shocked by “sins” of the past, you recoil. You are mired in the muck of complacency. Unable to move past negative feelings, you stall. So-called friends and family assault you and prevent you from healing and moving forward. Rise up and meet the challenges. Clear the way so you can move forward on your journey. Consider the consequences of inaction. Overcome the blockage, naivety, foolishness, indoctrination, and servitude, else disappointment, regret, and depression lie ahead.

Healing and activation Message: This journey is necessary. Expansion, (spiritual, emotional, psychological, etc.) growth, evolution, healing, and connection lie ahead, but only if you take the next step. As with all journeys, work is involved. You may refuse if you wish, but wrong choice leads inevitably to diminishment of soul and death of the body. Avoid that fate. Gather strength and move forward.

The Calling

Key Phrase: It is my time to wake up.

Symbolism: Consciousness/Spirit is calling. Consciousness descends into the Crown of the body and pulls the bodily ego upward. A powerful pull. An unignorable call to awaken. The figures, representing the bodily ego, look up as they respond to the Call. The body/mind begins to awaken. It is time to begin your journey healing journey home to stronger connection.

Narrative: This archetype represents the call to awaken and your response to this call. The call is coming through. You begin to realize, there's more to life than what you can see. You begin to wonder what you've been missing. As you progress you remember, life isn't about judgment and punishment. You begin to understand, you are not here to learn some foolish lesson. As you respond to the Call and begin to awaken, you confidently step onto The Path. The search for greater meaning, purpose, and understanding begins. The powerful urge to embrace truth and reality grows. You take a step forward on the Path to healing and connection.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is the call to awaken to identity, to activate, and eventually ascend to stronger connection and purpose. The time for pretending is over. It is time to move forward now.

At mundane levels this is a call to remember, heal, and reconnect. You will feel the Call as a niggling push to move forward. Trust that you have what it takes to move forward and make the shift. You might have a problem or a blockage, but the solution is there. If you pay closer attention, if you listen to inner guidance, and if you trust your intuition, the solution is right there to hand.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype raises questions about your response to The Call. Have you heard the call to awaken? Are you responding to it, or are you ignoring/repressing it?

Positive and aligned, You understand there is a need to move forward. In you is a rising suspicion that something is wrong, that something is missing, and that something needs to be done. Responding to the call, you begin to see through the thin veneer of fantasy and self-delusion. You begin to awaken.

Insight and understanding grow. Vision clears. Awareness dawns. As long as you keep your mind open, you will continue forward. Perhaps for the first time since birth, you begin to see the truth of things. You feel/see the presence of supportive and loving guidance. Open yourself to love and trust in your journey home.

Blockages and Challenges: An oppressive force of violence, pain, corruption, deception, disruption, confusion, subjugation, and immobilization pushes against you. The Call grows, pressure builds, but resistance is profound. The Call should lead to awakening and transformation, but something, or someone, blocks the way forward. Perhaps you feel judged and unworthy. Perhaps you believe the lies they have told. Perhaps it is your own psychological or emotional resistance that keeps you pressed down. Overwhelmed by fear, confusion, low self-worth, social convention, autocracy, external resistance, violence, etc., you suppress the call and lash out. Failing to meet with the challenge leads to anger, self-hatred, and regret. You know you have it within you, you just have to manage to believe.

Healing and activation Message: Don't be overwhelmed by the process. Baby steps forward are fine. Push aside self doubt and fear and embrace the journey forward. Little by little you move forward, emancipate, and embrace joyful power. Understand, nobody is here to judge and condemn. The calling leads to insight, enlightenment, emancipation, empowerment, and connection, not judgment and damnation. What is to fear about that?

Who wants to live in the dull gray of normal existence? Embrace the call to healing and connection so you can live your full life. Gather your gumption. Release your toxic attachments. Let go of anger and negativity. Eliminate people and environments that keep pushing you down. Be mindful of that which surrounds you. Find the ones who have your best interests at heart and move forward.

The Master

Key Phrase: There is a master within.

Symbolism: The physical unit is mature, healthy, and strong. The Soul has arrived. United as one, they manifest and control physical creation. Lemniscate below and above, a strong connection keeps everything properly aligned. The figure stands tall and is confident and proud. Palm pointed up, palm pointed down, the master implements the Divine Plan. Highest Self united with self. Bodily Ego merged with Spiritual Ego and aligned. That which is in Consciousness above reflected perfectly in matter below.

Narrative: This archetype teaches you about your mastery, passion, and purpose. Please understand, this is not your first time in a body and not your first act in the show. You have joyfully incarnated many times before. Through countless incarnations you have mastered your many skills. Know this. You are not a fool in a cosmic school learning some cheap karmic lessons. You are a powerful and joyful master, a star here to uplift and ascend creation.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is you incarnated in a powerful and connected Physical Unit. You are not now nor have you ever been a “fool in school.” You are not here to submit to the will of others. You are not here to “learn your lessons.” You are not here to “find your place” in the castes and classes of this world. On the contrary, you are a master of creation with lifetimes of training and experience. You have a special purpose and you are here to implement a special plan.

At mundane levels, this is your personal, professional, and creative mastery. This is certainly not onerous and odoriferous work. This is what we are trained for. This is what we are good at. This is your life’s passion. This is what comes easy for you.

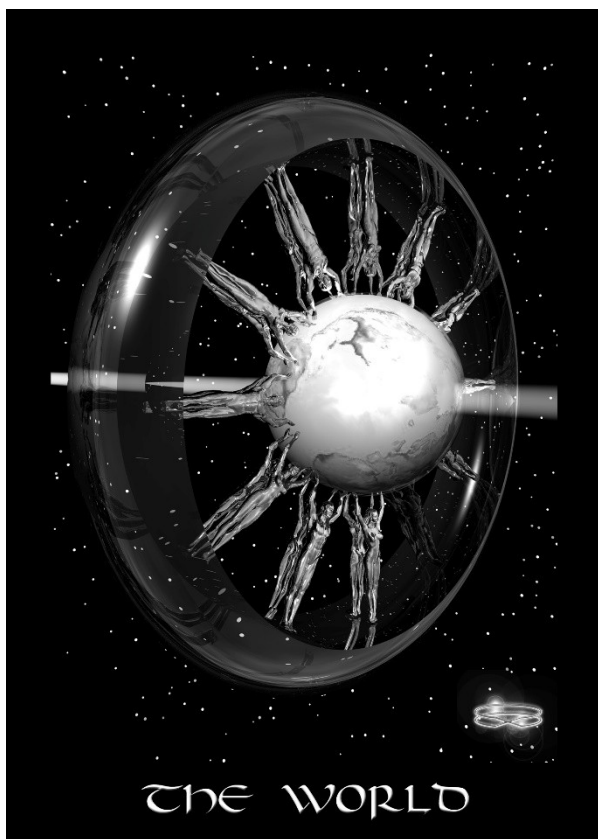

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype raises questions about your self-confidence and self image. Who do you think you are? Why do you think you are here? Is your mind filled with self doubt? Do you feel small and powerless? Or, are you connected with the power within?

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents self-confidence, expertise, focus, will, mastery, and commitment to manifesting the Plan. Knowing who you are and why you came, you are ready and willing to get the job done. Focused and confident, you do the things that you need to do to move yourself and your life forward. Accepting there is more to life than money, sex, and power, you find true passion and purpose and embrace your mastery. Positive and aligned, you feel confident in your Self and you are moving forward to power and connection. People, environments, and your own thoughts support your mastery. Positive alignments indicate positive progress and support. When connected and properly aligned, your life is an easy breezy reflection of the power of divine higher Consciousness.

Blockages and challenges: Do you feel blocked? This archetype indicates family/work/social toxicity, and pervasive psychological distress/disorder. Something is keeping you powerless and filled with self doubt. Perhaps your family enmeshes and restrains, using your power for their interests, or keeping you powerless to keep you controlled. Coworkers make unreasonable demands. Employers and others command and control, leaving you little time to explore and create. Governments steal and assault. Those threatened by your progress drag you down. Your own will and desire is trumped by the authority of others. Darkness and dysfunction surround. Low self-esteem, lack of confidence, reduced self-efficacy, etc. prevent you from stepping up and taking your power. There is work that you need to do, but you are unaware or feel powerless. You doubt your ability, intelligence, competence, and mastery. You believe yourself talent less, skill-less, and worthless. You rely exclusively on external expertise and authority to tell you what to do. You are powerless in your own right. You please people in order to fit in.

Healing and activation Message: When healthy and fully functioning, you are a master at manifesting will. Remember, you are no “fool in school.” Be confident and proud of your joyful self. The goal is alignment with your highest Self, and expression/connection to the master that is within.

The World

Key Phrase: Together, we complete the Great Work.

Symbolism: Twenty-four figures, symbolic of the twelve signs of the zodiac, the twelve tones of creation, the twelve rays of emanation, etc., circle and work with Gaia. The meniscus represents this planet's Creation Template which guides and informs our work. All life participates in the work with purpose as we manifest the Divine Plan. As you can see by the twenty four figures all working together, this is a team effort. The entire rainbow spectrum of humanity is required to complete the Great Work.

Narrative: This archetype teaches you about the collective Great Work. This archetype conveys the reason you are here. You are here as a joyful master of creation. You are here to implement The Divine Plan. You are here to help evolve the planet. You are here to help create a joyful playground for spirit. You are here to ascend the world.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is the work of evolving and ascending another planet, a new pearl in the vast cosmic ocean of creation. You should know, this is a big job and it takes a long time. Furthermore, there are no bystanders in this process. All life forms, not only humans, are implicated. To maintain the biosphere, to evolve society, all life is required. Respect even the lowly worm because their work is as essential as yours is. Embrace the rainbow family of spirit.

At a mundane level, this is your job, a hobby, your home, your family (it takes lots of work to maintain a family), your friendships, or anything else that requires work and attention to create and maintain. This archetype represents business, the world, and work. More specifically, this is your profession, but not necessarily your job. This is the work that you want to do. This is the work that you came to do. This is your passion in life.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype focuses attention on our collective purpose and your contribution. Are you doing what you came here to do? Does the work you do make you happy? Does it fulfill you? Does it make you proud? Or, are you miserable and repressed? Are you unhappy and without purpose? Is your life passionless and obscene? Is there anything that provides you with meaning?

Positive and aligned, people, environments, and your own thoughts support your work. More to the point, you understand, support, and respect the work that you do. You engage your life with passion and purpose. You realize, you do not have to do it alone. You see that help is available. Solipsism, fear, and self-doubt give way to compassion, connection, and the unity of collective purpose. Self emerges in others around you and you rejoice. Your world begins to transform.

Blockage and challenge: Your purpose is venal and your groups are selfish and toxic. Spiritual/Divine/Life purpose is submerged by greed, Toxic Attachments, and self-interest. You work for personal profit and gain. You work to dominate others. You work according to the will of another. Negative alignments indicate ideology and fear, low self-esteem, distraction, worry, and uncertainty. Toxic friends, family, co-workers, and authority surround you. Things are dragging you down. To avoid pain and anguish, you accept the world around you as it is. To avoid confrontation, you surrender to the will of others. You go along to get along. Higher Self recoils. Consciousness in the body declines.

Healing and activation Message: You can live a life according to your own divine and masterful purpose, or not. You can play your part, or you can pretend you are in this only for yourself. Note, a life lived according to another, or a life lived in solipsistic isolation, is no life at all. What keeps you isolated and alone? Who keeps you dazed and confused? Who keeps you silenced and in thrall? Who keeps you on your knees? Ask for answers and you shall receive. Learn the truth and a way forward will emerge. Remember, you are a joyful master. Remember, you are here with a purpose. Look forward to the promise. It is time to join with all life and awaken, activate, and ascend this physical world.

Sacrifice

Key Phrase: My sacrifice is disconnection from Self.

Symbolism: Here we see a joyful master sacrificing connection to Consciousness in order to descend into The Waters (of Manifestation) and uplift physical creation (the earthen disk). Anchored by the light of Consciousness, but submerged, inverted, and with no light at the Crown (chakra), she is disconnected. Embracing physical creation, she strains, struggles, and finally succeeds. She lifts physical creation up (ascends creation) through the darkness of in-animation towards the highest expressions of Consciousness.⁴

Narrative: This archetype teaches you of your sacrifice. You cannot deny, the Great Work is challenging and difficult. You accept this challenge as a necessary sacrifice so that we might descend into physical manifestation in order to uplift all of creation.

⁴ For more on ascension, see Michael Sharp, The Book of Life: Ascension and the Divine World Order.

At the highest and most aligned levelss, this is the sacrifice required to undertake the Great Work, which is the work of ascension. Disconnected and blindfolded, you descend into darkness in order that you might ascend physical creation. It is hard work, the conditions are not ideal, and so youstruggle and suffer. You accept and endure for the reward of your effort is a pearl of inestimable value--an ascended and graduated world.

At mundane levels, these are the priorities we set and the sacrifices we make so that we can work and live the way we want. Remember, in the physical world, nothing good comes without work, effort, and sacrifice. Everything requires effort.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype focuses your attention on the challenges of physical existence and the sacrifices you have had to make, or will have to make, in order to accomplish the Great Work you came to do. There is no sense in denying it: there is work involved.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents the dissipation of resistance and the acceptance of life's challenges. People, environments, and thoughts honour your sacrifices and support your work. You have connected with your purpose and accepted your life path; now it is just a question of commitment. Staying on path and staying aligned with your Self and your purpose may not always be easy, but it is the only thing that makes you happy and content. Remember the lesson of the world. Your sacrifices are individual, but the Great Work is collective. Positive alignments indicate cooperative sacrifice and collective mission. We sacrifice together to achieve our collective goal.

Blockage and challenge: Sacrifice is necessary, but suffering is not. Negatively aligned, you accept unnecessary suffering that is damaging to the physical unit and detrimental to the work you do. You conflate abuse with sacrifice. You believe suffering is actually good for you. You have told yourself, what does not kill you makes you stronger; but it is not true. Violence and toxicity lead to physical, emotional, and psychological damage. What does not kill you damages you, disconnects you, and leaves you scarred. Foolishly, you ignore the damage and accept the negative consequences as a necessary “cross” you must bear.

Psychological and emotional damage accrue and you grow weak and broken.

Negative alignments indicate reaction, defensiveness, avoidance of reality, repression, depression, and the acceptance of violence assaults (emotional, psychological, physical, etc.). Addictions (shopping, exercise, alcohol, tobacco, sugar, etc.) provide a psychological and emotional escape from suffering and pain, but you abandon life's mission and purpose. Indoctrination nails you to a cross and you suffer in silence and alone.

Healing and Activation Message: To change your life, change the way you think about many things, starting with your view of sacrifice. Understand, there is no psychological or emotional benefit to pain and suffering. In order to complete the Great Work, sacrifice may be required; but suffering, strife, and abuse are not. Focus, hard work, and commitment, not “lessons,” suffering, and pain are what drives creation forward. That is all.

THE PROMISE

The Promise

Key Phrase: The Garden of Full Connection.

Symbolism: Two figures rejoice in paradise. Bathed in the highest light of Consciousness/Christ/God (the Sun), they stand firmly in the waters of manifestation. Having, through sacrifice and masterful effort, uplifted the dense and inanimate disk of physical creation, they now bask in the power and the glory of an ascended and connected creation. This disk of physical creation, once cold and submerged, is now elevated and filled with the Light. Consciousness floods this land. This is purpose achieved. This is the promise of the power and the glory of Consciousness, descended and fully expressed in the body, and also The Body.

Narrative: This archetype teaches you the point and the purpose of incarnation, the end point that you (that we all) masterfully strive for. This is why you joyfully incarnate. This is why you sacrifice and endure. You are here to uplift and exalt creation with highest Consciousness so you (so we) can play in another beautiful Garden. You sacrifice and commit in order to ascend and connect physical creation. It is the only job worth having, the best job worth doing, and you have been “down here” doing it for a very, very long time.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this archetype represents the exaltation of Consciousness in matter, the end-point of planetary gestation. This is the glorious end-times summation. This is the final, but necessary, ablation that finally completes the Great Work.

At mundane levels, this represents that which motivates your projects. This is why you work. You work to build a house so you can guarantee your shelter and safety. You work to have the money that you need for comfort and food. You work to build a world where all are safe and secure. Whatever it is that drives you forward is present here and in the alignments to this archetype.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws your attention simply to what motives you.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents clean and healthy motivations, pure vision, and the conscious desire to uplift and ascend. A vision of life and happiness is forming (or has already formed) in your mind, and you want to move forward towards that vision. The promised reward is clear, and you have the confidence to move forward and achieve it. Positive alignments indicate purity of purpose, clarity of vision, and positive supports. You find your friends, family, and coworkers aligned with your motivation and purpose. Smiling, you step forward and connect.

Blockage and challenge: Your motivations are selfish. Your purpose is cruelty. Your goal is enslavement. You will assault, dominate, and control in order to satisfy your needs. What you desire is power. What you crave for is wealth. How you achieve it is domination and control. You will do anything you to feed your Toxic Needs.⁵ Even holocaust is not too horrible if it preserves The System's privileges for you.

Negative alignments indicate perversion of motivation, selfishness, cruelty, domination, holocaust, and attack. Life is drained of its joy and vitality. Energy is wasted. Pain and suffering abound. Drugs fill the voids and reduce painful disjuncture. Those around you enable negativity and toxicity. At every turn, your vision is distorted and blocked; you prevent yourself from moving forward. Paranoia sets in and panic arises as the Light of the Sun washes over your unprepared face.

⁵https://spiritwiki.lightningpath.org/Toxic_Needs.

Healing and activation message: In the end, the horror show is a self-imposed illusion. God's true promise is health, wealth, and paradise for all, right here and right now. This promise is not limited to a select group or restricted to a few "worthy" ones. God's promise is for everybody. The entire rainbow spectrum participates. Remember: We all joyfully incarnate. We are all called to awaken. We all make sacrifices while we masterfully work on the world. Consequently, we all deserve rest and reward. Remember: In your darkest hour, the promise guides your way home. To participate in the ascended utopia, all you have to do is let go of the sick and greedy old world behind you.

Realization

Key Phrase: This is my mind's true liberation

Symbolism: The pearl-like globe embedded in purple energies indicates the involvement of the crown chakra, your brain. The yellow box is a box of constriction and limitation. The hand represents authority, power, and control implemented through ideology and archetypes. The ideas in our mind bind or emancipate. The hand of authority emerges through the mind and clutches the figure in the box, but the figure is breaking free. Another figure has already escaped. Striving for connection (looking up), she dips her foot in the new reality (the water) below. Moving forward, she rejoins all who are free.

Narrative: This archetype represents the mind's true liberation. This is the lightning flash of creative/intuitive/intellectual realization. This is powerful, electrical, inspiration. This is enlightenment as it electrifies your body and reverberates throughout your creation.

At the highest and most aligned levels, you realize (or begin to realize) the truth of things. You have been lied to. You have been severely limited by the archetypal deceptions. You are more than an ejected Adam, more than a primitive Eve. You are much more than what you've been told. Breaking free from the limitations of mental slavery, you realize the truth. You accept the sacrifice. You remember the promise. You reclaim your status as a joyful master of creation. No longer confined, you work on the world to ascend and graduate our creation.

At mundane levels, this archetype represents a breakthrough. You tear down a wall. You break through a blockage or obstacle. You finally understand the way forward. Breaking free of control, error, familiarity, and limitation, you embrace diversity and pursue new energy alternatives and new energy solutions.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws your attention to truths realized and revealed, or falsehoods that you cannot break free from. This is an enlightenment/moksha⁶ moment, or the imposition of confusion and misdirection.

⁶<https://spiritwiki.lightningpath.org/Moksha>.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents insight, realization, and enlightenment. We realize, or are close to realizing, a truth about our self, or our Self. We realize, or are close to realizing, a truth about our life or something in it. We are OK with what we see, even if it makes us uncomfortable. As understanding dawns, we are motivated to move forward. As the Light within blossoms, life begins to improve. Alignments indicate people, environments, and thoughts that support realization. Positive alignments indicate people, spiritual guides, and resources available to assist with realization or to guide us in understanding and direction. They push us forward with a gentle and loving touch. A little bird whispers in our ear.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, this archetype indicates diversion, deception, confusion, misdirection, deceit, and pervasive deception. Rigid fundamentalism restrains you with a vice-like grip. Hierophants spin webs of deception. Fear, hatred, and self-loathing prevent you from seeing the truth and removing your chains. An idea, or a person with an idea, holds you in a vice-like grip and prevents you from seeing the truth. Your childhood indoctrination weighs you down. Somebody has given you bad advice and you have foolishly followed it. You are deluded and mentally oppressed. You are controlled. Your life is not your own. You are a robot in unbeknownst service to power.

Healing and activation message: Moving forward you should know, realization is not a single event. The muck and the mire of toxic socialization, the old energy darkness and deception, takes time and effort to overcome. We realize the truth in stages. We attain emotional and intellectual emancipation systematically and by “degrees.” Even the attainment of “cosmic consciousness” requires us to sort through the information and ground it well. Therefore, examine your ideas carefully. Fact check what others are saying. Do not be trapped by somebody else’s agenda. Facilitate forward movement through careful discernment and ongoing gentle realization. Say to yourself daily, better yet, multiple times a day, “I wish to know the highest truths for the greatest good of all.”

Strength

Key Phrase: I am here to complete The Great Work.

Symbolism: Here we see Gaia embodied as the tree of all life. A kneeling figure, an empowered, but humble servant of God, honouring Gaia, and willing to complete The Great Work. Gaia, charging for the task at hand, which is the evolution and healing of The Body in order to enable its full connection to Consciousness. Land, barren, grass, beginning to grow as Consciousness begins to flow. When the figure stands, life bursts forth. Waters of manifestation, Waters of Consciousness, Waters of Creation. From the Water emerges all physical creation. The Water feeds physical manifestation and nurtures the new Garden of high Consciousness emerging.

Narrative: This archetype represents true strength, which is not psychopathic domination and control of another, but the strength that comes from comprehension, awareness, service, and connection.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is the strength that comes when you serve The Great Work, which is the divine evolutionary plan to connect the Body (and the body) with higher Consciousness. You do not incarnate primarily for business or pleasure. You incarnate to uplift creation. You incarnate to accomplish the Great Work.

At mundane levels, this is the strength that you need to get through life. This is physical, psychological, emotional, and even spiritual strength when applied to mundane tasks. Remember, you are a joyful master. Never doubt you are strong. Never doubt you have what it takes to get through.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype reminds you of your strength and the fastest way to recapture/reclaim it, which is doing what you came here to do—serve and uplift Earth creation.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents strength of mission and purpose. No longer should you sit in impotence and silence. No longer should you dominate and oppress others. Having realized the truth, having agreed to complete your sacred task, you are ready to initiate and move forward. Gather your strength, joyfully embrace your mastery. Move to embrace power and promise. Stand for what is right. Positive alignments indicate strong convictions, true purpose, and support all around. With strong alignments, limitations are shattered, strength is supported, and weakness dissipates.

Blockage and challenge: You struggle with social convention and social control. Low self-esteem and self-worth weaken you. You are addicted to venal power and purpose. Strength is confused with the domination of others. The bullying use of force stands in the place of true strength of Spirit. Aggression obscures your pain. Bravado and violence conceal fundamental spiritual weakness.

Negative alignments indicate selfish individuals, toxic environments, venal priorities, fear, hatred, arrogance, confusion, and other props of violence and disconnection. Stuck in the toxic mud of your dark and toxic world, you scramble and thrash. Lacking true strength, you lash out and harm others. Oppressing your own Self, you dominate others in the service of a venal plan. Impotent, you accept the toxicity that is. Blinded, you see no way out.

Healing and activation message:

Understand this: violence and domination are not strength. Violence is the first and last resort of the weak and disconnected. The connected never express strength through the oppression and suppression of others, or of the Self. At the bleeding edge of human evolution, there is no contest; there is only global unity. True power comes only after we align with our highest Self, emancipate from mental slavery, activate, heal, and connect. True power comes only when we work on the world as equals to fulfill the promise and the Divine Plan. You can move forward from here only after you commit to the Great Work. Embrace true purpose. Draw true strength. Evolve the body. Exalt the planet. Take the next steps. Initiate. Align. Activate. Emancipate. Connect.

INITIATION

Initiation

Key Phrase: I am no longer weak and afraid.

Symbolism: As realization and strength grow, we begin our ascent. The chaos, darkness, disease, and death of Old Energy creation lie below. A figure climbing an activation spiral struggles out of the darkness. The ladder is vertical; the climb is difficult; the pitfalls numerous. However, there is hope. We remember the promise and release fear. We realize and clarify so that understanding emerges. New ideas and new ways of looking at things bring renewed purpose, and strength returns. The pace accelerates. New energies begin to flow. A circle/energy sphere provides a boundary to protect the climber and keep her on track.

Narrative: This archetype represents initiation and ascent. This is a point of emotional, psychological, spiritual, and/or political maturation. This is the lightning flash of divine inspiration. This is, individually or collectively, the first step, or another step, up the ladder to health and stronger connection. You know, or begin to suspect, who we are. You realize your purpose. You understand your sacrifice. You roll up our sleeves. You get down to work. You ascend a little higher. Your connection improves.

At the highest and most aligned levelss, this is a dream, a glimmering of higher Consciousness, or an experience (however brief) of connection (a Connection Experience) that sends the clear message you are more than what you currently believe. As you begin to realize and accept this higher truth, you willfully initiate Consciousness's descent. "I wish to move forward. I wish to wake up" is the mantra you constantly recite.

At mundane levels, this is a bright idea that leads to a confident change in direction, or the initiation of a project. This is the activity that follows an idea, and the consequent decision to build and create. This could represent a house, a screenplay, a business, a family, or anything else that you decide to build/create.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype says "you're ready; there is no more time to waste; now it is time to get rolling." This is not something that you doubt, because it comes from a source deep inside you.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents the solidification of intent, the initiation of a plan, a strong step forward towards health and connection, and a new beginning. Doubt, fear, and confusion are gone. The pieces begin to come together. Deliberate, and perhaps strong, forward movement ensues. You start making things happen. Positive alignments indicate clear understanding, focused will, and positive support for your new direction. People are happy with the changes in you.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, this archetype indicates fear, hatred, anger, and confusion. Demons, devils, and dragons in mind (i.e. old energy archetypes) keep you afraid and locked down. Toxic relationships at home, work, and in the “social networks” suppress and control instead of uplift and emancipate. Feelings of rejection, dejection, and worthlessness abound. Self-doubt leads you to conform. You would rather fit in and follow than fly. Negative alignments indicate negativity, suppression, and loss. You are beaten. Like a horse that finally submits, you are broken. Fear, violence, threat, confusion, and oppression have proven too much. You acquiesce and succumb. Self-delusion spreads like cancer.

Healing and activation message: At times you may feel lost and defeated. Do not give up. Do not let depression overwhelm your bright Soul. The only loss that is a true loss is the loss that comes when you give up and stop trying. Remind yourself of the promise. Embrace joyful mastery and the strength of divine purpose. Bedraggled and abused, but breathing and alive all the same, there is still hope and there is still time. Do not succumb to hatred. Do not be afraid. Do not feel unworthy. Do not allow yourself to be damned. Out of the valley of the shadow of death, you may yet still emerge. It is a simple choice that you make to create the world where you live. Open to your own higher Consciousness. Trust in your own higher Self. Embrace and accept the lightning flash of your own highest inspiration. Listen to the calling. Find your way home.

Alignment

Key Phrase: To mine own Self be true.

Symbolism: An abstract representation of alignment. A sword, balanced on either side by force and formation (yang and yin). This is a key offered to you by Jupiter, a planet that is a symbol of alignment. This is not ever the sword of judgment. This is the sword of discernment and full alignment with Self. This is, above all, the key to the “Kingdom of Pure Consciousness,” the “Garden of full Connection,” the gate through which is the Kingdom of God.

Narrative: This archetype teaches us the key to forward movement, emancipation, activation, connection, and graduation, which is alignment with your own Highest Self. Always remember, the physical unit is merely a vehicle for the bright sun of your highest self. To move forward, align the thoughts and actions of your physical unit with your perfect and sparkling bright soul Self.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is perfect alignment with Self, perfect alignment with Consciousness, or the active and eyes-wide-open pursuit thereof. Listen carefully. Alignment is not an onerous chore. Alignment does not bring pain, suffering, darkness, and disconnection. Alignment brings power, peace, contentment, and the attainment of strongest connection. This is a joyous path.

At mundane levels, this is healing and repair of the physical body and mind through accurate alignment with Self. Putting aside hypocrisy and self-delusion, you align thought and action with your Self. Breathing deeply, you happily atone for past “sin.”⁷

⁷ For the Lightning Path definition of “sin,” see <http://spiritwiki.lightningpath.org/Sin/>.

Focusing on the manifestation of the promise, you fix that which is broken in your worked, the world, and your self.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your actions. Are you actively creating Right Environment? Are you engaged only in Right Action? Or, are you acting out of alignment with your own Highest Self? Take a few moments to assess. Then, make any changes that are necessary.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents the urge and drive to align, to move forward, to clear up the issues, to line up the pieces, and to make the necessary changes that will actuate your next step. You know who you are, you know why you are here, and you know what you need to do. Take action and align. Alignments indicate supports that help you face the truth and align behaviors, or on the negative side, things that get in your way. Positive alignments indicate accountability, responsibility, and support for change and atonement. You do not deny your sins. You do not hide your mistakes. You do not make up excuses. You take responsibility. You embrace error. You fix what needs to be fixed. You return yourself to alignment.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, this is fear, resistance, guilt, and shame all leading to a failure to take full responsibility. Powerful new energies flow, but you remain trapped in dysfunction. You resist accountability. You deny your actions and pretend you are without sin. You embrace the great self-delusion. You fail to take action and align. It is not all your fault. Enablers spin their toxic webs around you. Those who benefit from your servitude subvert and oppress. Your enemies jab at your heals. Nevertheless, only you can do what is right for you. Make the right choice and align.

Healing and activation message: For the truly woke, the way forward is clear and easy. It is not about commandments, rules, or following orders. It is not about morality or divine assessment. It is not about enduring punishment. Judgment and condemnation are passé. It is about responding to the calling. It is about the realization of truth. It is about embrace of positive change. It is about the promise, nay the guarantee, of full redemption. It is about alignment with your own Self.

You'll find your sacrifice was worth it if you initiate, move forward, and align. To get from there to here, simply take responsibility. Put aside self-delusion, fix what you have broken, align with your highest Self, and take your place among the empowered family of spirit.

Formation

Key Phrase: Consciousness forms.

Symbolism: A human face sits betwixt the pillars of force and formation (also known as yang and yin). The sun of higher Consciousness shines fully and brightly, taking the shape of the container of mind. The message is clear. Through the archetypes and ideas in our mind, we form creation. From the waters above to the water below, and into the Malkuth of Earth, we use energy shaped by ideas to manifest and create the world. Note, this archetype shows force and formation used in balance, the direction we all must move towards now.

Narrative: This archetype is self-referential. This archetype reminds us of the power and significance of ideas and archetypes. Through the formative power of ideas, we shape and direct the willful force of our energy and power.

At the highest and most aligned levelss, this archetype represents our creative desire, ambition, and the intent of our Highest Self, formalized into archetypes and that direct the flows of creation.

This is our individual and collective Creation Template,⁸ which can be positive, emancipating and new energy, or putrid, negative and old energy. Do you feel yourself to be a cosmic loser? Do you think you are merely an ape? Do you think you are here to learn lessons? Do you think you are being punished for sins? Think again. Change your ideas and change yourself. Change your archetypes and change the world. You are a joyful master. You are a cosmic victor. You have the power to activate. You have the ability to connect. You are here to graduate this world.

At mundane levels, these are the ideologies and archetypes that organize our societies, govern our work lives, and shape our social experiences. These are the ideas that either drive us forward and up, or restrain us and push us back down.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your ideas, to the creation template you use to think about, understand, and act in the world. Do you have the right ideas? Do your ideas heal, empower, emancipate, and connect? Are you engaged in ⁸ http://spiritwiki.lightningpath.org/Creation_Template.

Right Thought? Or, do the archetypes in your mind diminish, limit, and oppress. It's time to examine your thinking.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents right thought leading to smooth and positive forward movement. We have the right ideas, and everything is going as planned. Resistance melts away and alignment improves as we clear out old energy ideas and accept identity, purpose, and truth. Alignments indicate ideas and archetypes, both your own and those of others. Positive alignments indicate new energy ideas around and inside you. You're getting the right ideas about things and these are making a big difference. There is clear sailing ahead. Using energy and support in whatever balance and configuration we require, we move forward with gusto and thrive.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned this is all about wrong thought. The ideas in your mind confine, diminish, disempower, and enslave. , You ideas do not serve us. Your ideas encourage you to serve another. Your thought processes lead to pain and disconnection. Fear, guilt, and shame shut you down. Sacrificing your creative ambition, you deny yourself as you conform to the world view of some old energy others. You cast about, stumbling, lost, and confused. There is no flow. Ideas clash. Reality crumbles. Everything is in disarray. Nothing seems to work. If nothing changes, disaster is the inevitable result.

Healing and activation message: The universe is a universe of crystallized energy. Ideas and archetypes control the flow of energy and the manifestations that result. If things are not working out, if energy is not flowing as expected, if creation is not what it should be, examine your thinking and the thinking of those around you. To transform your world, transform your thinking with New Energy Archetypes and right thought. To transform the entire world, transform global thinking with new archetypes and right thought.

Force

Key Phrase: Consciousness generates.

Symbolism: An androgynous face sits amidst powerful and expansive red energies, symbolizing force improperly balanced. Unbalanced force is the current dominant old energy reality of Earth. This archetype issues a warning. The powerful energies of force drive creation, but without sufficient formation, creation careens out of control till eventually it is a total and arid ruin. A touch of green in the card hints at initiation, transformation, and the promise and potential of a new energy with force and formation in balance.

Narrative: This archetype teaches a fundamental truth of creation's magic, which is that nothing happens without the force of will. Passive attraction and sheep-like "acceptance of what is" accomplishes nothing, or serves another's agenda. To engage in creative activity, you must energize and empower. You must not submit. You must gather strength and yourself into creative action.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this archetype represents the mission-drive that comes with full realization. Having responded to the call, you have liberated and reformed your mind. You are a confident and joyful master here to work on the world. Free of self-doubt, you no longer accept limitation. Aligned with your highest Self, you draw strength and remove archetypal shackles. You emancipate and activate so Self Self can be born in full power.

At mundane levels, this archetype represents the purpose driven action that comes with confidence, strength, and power. There are things you need to do and things you to know, and you are ready, willing, and able to do and to know.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your will. The question you ask yourself here is simple. Do you have independent will, or has it been destroyed by Toxic Socialization? Do you desire that which is good for you and yours, or does your will feed energy to another?

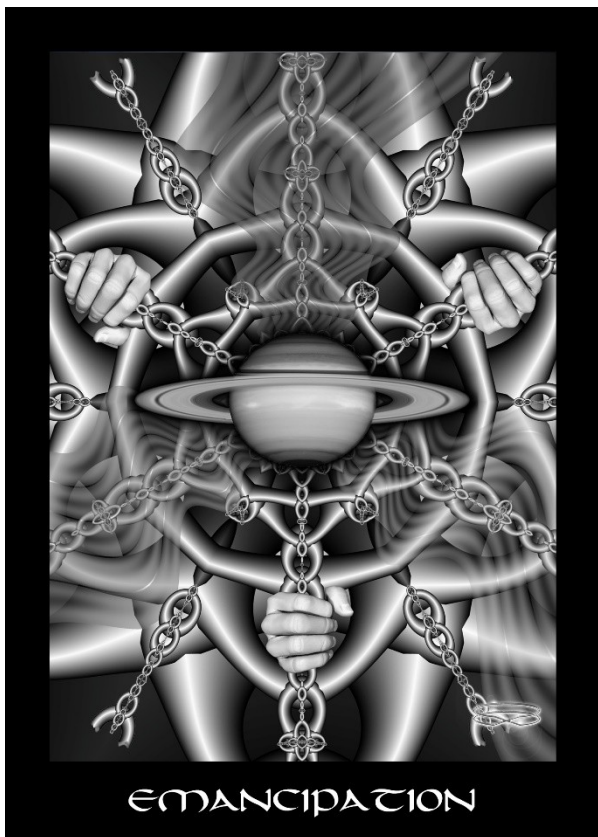

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents right action in the world. Confusion no longer impedes. Ideas are clear. Doubt does not drag you down. You focus your attention and apply your will. You get to work and you make things happen. You do what you came here to do. Alignments indicate things that influence your action or inaction, including the thoughts in your head. Positive alignments indicate energies available to uplift and create. Others support your force. Progress is rapid. Willfully you manifest your ideal creation.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, this is force without formation, or depression and impotent failure. Either way, this is an arid desert. This is creation after all life has been destroyed. You smash through your life without thinking. Fear and paranoia keep you oppressed and shut down. Violence and domination rule your days. The damage is profound and severe. The chains are thick. Old energy archetypes penetrate to the core. Willful unguided actions, or profound impotence and submission, lead to a premature end to your efforts. This is the bully in action, and the victim on the ground. Violent force of will without counterbalancing formation destroys us all. Authority “shows us the way.” We struggle to break free and to establish an independent will but cannot.

We march towards assured self destruction.

Healing and activation message: This is the challenge of overcoming the damage of your toxic childhoods so that you may heal, connect, create, and uplift. This is the challenge of taking Right Action to change and make a better world for yourself, and for all. This is the challenge of proper use of force. Know that revolution comes with the turn of a page. Rebirth is around the corner. A little push, a little education, and a little encouragement may be all you need. Remind yourself of who you truly are. You are a joyful and empowered master of physical creation. You are on a mission to evolve and graduate the world. You need no external authority to tell you what, deep inside, you already know. Align with your highest Self. Engage in right action. Exert your powerful will. Emancipate, activate, find passage and be reborn so that you can do what you came here to do.

Emancipation

Key Phrase: Free at last.

Symbolism: The planet Saturn, with its ridged outer rings, represents boundaries and limitation. Archetypal chains bind the mind and the body. Our energies and actions have been restricted by ideas in our mind, but our bondage is coming to end. Three individuals grasp the chains that bind and pull, thus breaking the chains. By our own effort, and with the assistance of others, we emancipate and break free.

Narrative: This archetype represents emancipation from The System. This is release from the chains that bind. This is growing freedom to act in the world in the best interests of yourself and your family. When fully realized, this is the end of our diminishment.

At the highest and most aligned levelss, this is emancipation of the physical unit (the body and the mind) from the archetypal chains that bind you in fear, uncertainty, and creative impotence. You answer the call and initiate. You overcome fear and self-loathing. We establish right thought and align. This is emancipation from a toxic family, from an oppressive work environment, from political and economic servitude, from spiritual bondage, etc. You draw strength and with clarity of purpose, you exert your will, break free from the System, and are free.

At mundane levels, this is freedom to act as you so will and desire, without fear and uncertainty. You change your job. You change your lifestyle. You make an adjustment because you want to and because you can. Blockages dissolve and you move towards activation and full power.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to physical actions in the physical world, or lack thereof. The force of will is fine and dandy, but if all you do is intend, nothing is going to happen. To move forward you must take action and transform your your self, your life, and this world.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents freedom, emancipation, and transformation. You have slowly established Right Thought. You are beginning to create Right Environment. Now, you continue with Right Action. Confident in your abilities, trusting of your Self, you break through nefarious chains that bind. Formerly chained and immobilized, you stand up and begin to transform not only your self but the entire physical world. Slow at first, you pick up speed. You have been your own worst enemy for too long, but now that you see clearly, you easily break free and fly. Alignments indicate internal and external supports and/or resistance that encourage emancipation and freedom of action, or that force compliance and conformity. Positive alignments indicate internal and strengths and external supports that encourage emancipation, giving us the power to act and break free.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, his archetype represents bondage, both internal and external. Negative ideas about self and potential weigh you down and keep you in our place. Prejudice, hatred, and self-loathing bubble up from within. Negative emotions lower your confidence and block your way forward. Your family abuses you and suppress you. Social pressures from people impregnated with wrong thought force you to sacrifice Self and conform. Emotional, psychological, and spiritual manipulation enslave. The world conspires against you. Agents, threatened by our freedom, work to enslave. Fear and anxiety overwhelm. Fear locks you down. You struggle to break free but submit in the end.

Healing and activation message: The battle might be lost but the “war” you will win. It is merely a matter of timing. Do not be discouraged. Do not feel depressed. Do not stop fighting. Do not give up the ghost. Remember, life is not a test, and neither is this. This is not about how “worthy” you are, how “smart” you are, how “strong” you are, or how blue your blood really is. This is about awakening (also known as the Calling), activation, alignment, and connection and nothing more. Stand up and break your chains so you can take action, activate, and be free.

Passage

Key Phrase: My Self stands in my way.

Symbolism: The angel that is your own Highest Self stands before you on your Path back to full connection. Righteous and with hair afire symbolizing full and unmediated connection to Consciousness, your Highest Self holds the book of your life up for examination. A Self-evaluation is at hand.

Narrative: This archetype teaches of the significance and importance of alignment. You cannot move forward, fully activate, or connect until you properly align with your Self and commit to the work you came here to do. There are no other options represented here. To gain passage to full and empowered Connection, you must be true to your Self.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this archetype represents the necessity of full alignment with Self. This is your higher Self, guarding passage into an empowered state. This is no joking matter. There is no moving beyond until you do.

Take the time to evaluate your own progress. Have you responded to the calling? Have you initiated on a spiritual path? Have you realized the truth? Have you emancipated your mind? Are you aligned with Highest Self? Do you draw strength from committed service? If so, then Self welcomes you home.

At mundane levels, this is “karmic” action in the world. This is you righting all the wrongs for which you are responsible for, and later helping out others do the same. Note, this is not a judgment and nobody is being punished. Should you wish to move forward, simply atone for whatever it is you have done and fix whatever it is you have broken.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to the critical need for alignment in thought, word, and deed, and any obstacles or challenges that are either supporting or preventing this alignment.

Positive and aligned, this archetype indicates a positive self-assessment, perhaps with some work left to do. Take a good look around you. Is everything in order? Is everything in place? Is everything properly aligned? Then, step forward.

On the other hand, are there some things that you have left to do? Then, do them. Judgment and punishment do not prevail here, but there may be work left to do. Alignments indicate anything that supports passage to a higher state of Consciousness. Positive alignments indicate friends, family, groups, institutions, environments, etc., that support and encourage Right Thought, Right Action, and the creation of Right Environment. Positive alignments also indicate the things that you need to do and the issues you need to resolve before you can activate, empower, and fully connect.

Blockages and challenge: Passage is not a foregone conclusion. You have things you need to do, yet you resist. A shift needs to be made. There are wrongs you need to right, but you will not; there are actions you need to take, but you do not; there are shifts you need to make, but fear holds you back. You are oppressed or blocked up. Or stubbornly, out of pride, fear, or greed, you refuse to change. Perhaps you believe force will win this day, but you can never blast your way through your own Highest Self. There is no middle ground. There is no alternative way forward. Either align or do not. Do not let low self-esteem, fear, or foul judgment prevent you from doing what you know to be right. Do not let people and situations enable wrong thought and wrong action. Do the right thing always. Heal a wound. Repair a relationship. Beg forgiveness from your children. Atone for transgression. Transform a workplace. Action needs to be taken. Do what you need to do to come home.

Healing and activation message: Moving forward is simple. Recognize your part in the dysfunction. Change the things you need to change. Fix the things that you have broken. Embrace purpose and emancipation. Move towards alignment. For the good of all beings, create what you want to create. Do what you came here to do. Align with your Highest Self so you can be who you truly are. Guilt and shame may arise, those who do not understand may judge, condemn, and withdraw, but accountability sweeps all that away. Do not dwell in the past. Instead, move forward into the future.

Connection

Key Phrase: Joyfully I reconnect.

Symbolism: The moon represents a nascent and growing connection to higher Consciousness. The variable moon represents the strength of that connection. A new moon is disconnection while the full moon is full connection. The variable moon represents the waxing and waning nature of connection, and repeated approximations until permanent connection is achieved. Electrical discharge and the bright full moon represent the electrical/lightning power of a potent and direct connection.

Narrative: This archetype represents connection, which always leads to insight, realization, emancipation, empowerment, activation, ascension, and so on. The archetype also represents a decision. Realizing the truth, understanding reality, experiencing unity, we must make a decision. Do we accept the revealed truth and step forward, or do we reject it and remain in normal consciousness? If we accept, we transcend to a higher state of being and ascend to a higher state of knowing, if only for a moment or two. If we reject, we return to Normal Consciousness. Through connection we learn, grow, and, systematically and by degrees, find our way back home.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is acceptance, asseveration, and declaration. We understand that it is not an issue of judgment and/or damnation. We accept that it has all been a pernicious lie. There are no chosen ones. There is no judgment. This is not a test. There are no bystanders. No one is “left behind.” Embracing truth, we connect and are reborn. We activate, empower, and graduate the entire planet.

At mundane levels, this is acceptance. We finally and fully accept a truth that we have avoided, perhaps for a very long time. Initial discomfort gives way to rising elation as we slowly put all the pieces together and begin a personal, familial, or higher, transformation.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to connection, its occurrences, its quality, its intensity, its content, and so on.

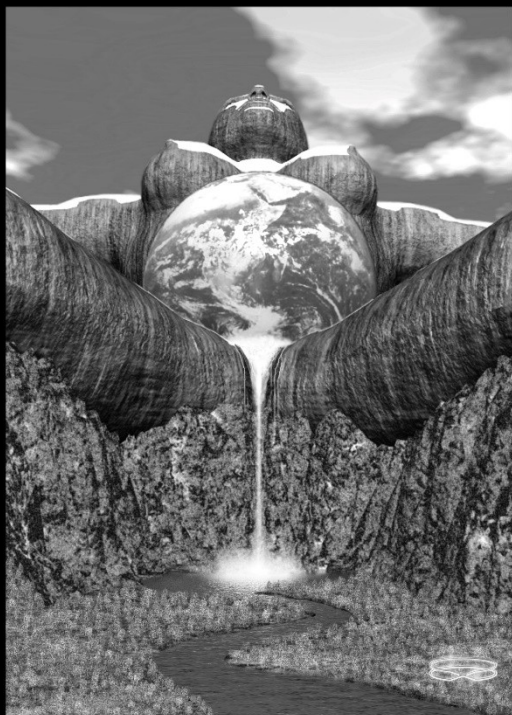

Positive and aligned, this is increasing connection perfection. You establish right thought and make the right choices as you continue to prepare the way for your own Highest Self. Gathering the support that you need, you move forward and finally succeed. Mastery or your connection grows, power expands, and the star within begins slowly to shine. Positive alignments indicate factors that help us improve and perfect our connection, or that disrupt it and break it back down. Positive alignments indicate a universe opening before us. Clarity and truth guide our way forward. Accountability and atonement clears the path forward. A supportive environment carries us home. No fear and/or judgment arise as we connect. Unencumbered by negative emotion and ill will, we accept a cosmic welcome as reconnect and find our way home.

Blockage and challenge: Maligned, this archetype represents a turn towards darkness. Something prevents you from facing the wonderful truth. You avoid, divert, and repress. Stepping off The Path, you turn away from your own Light. Despite an inclusive message and repeated urging, you fail to let go of anger, resentment, hatred, and fear. The dominoes of your disconnection begin their catastrophic, cascading fall.

Negative alignments indicate internal and external resistances that prevent us from accepting connection. Shame, guilt, sin, low self-esteem, confusion, and lie surround us and lock us in the “sunken place.”

Healing and connection message: Why are you so stuck and disconnected? What are the things that you fear? Understand, it doesn't matter what you have done in the past. Understand, no cosmic judgment awaits you. Realize, no gatekeeper stands in your way. The only thing that prevents you from connecting is the content of your own sacred heart (chakra). To connect, mindfully empty your self of fear, anger, resentment, and hatred. Choose peace, compassion, truth, love, Spirit, and life. Repeat this mantra after me: “I am worthy. I am powerful. I am strong. I am capable. I am present. I am able. Now, I wish to connect.”

REBIRTH

Rebirth

Key Phrase: It is time for the rebirth of Self.

Symbolism: Mother Earth is giving birth: fecundity; a nurturing space. All of creation embraced and supported. Water, the fountain of creation, life, and growth. Life grows freely when water is present. The planet upon which we live symbolizes the support of our creation. Without Gaia, there is no life. This should be an obvious truth. Gaia works with the energy from the Sun to create a biosphere capable of supporting life. Manifestation and creation spring forth.

Narrative: This archetype represents creation, birth, rebirth, and the nurturing and supportive environment that provide appropriate spaces for growth. This is physical birth and physical creation. This is the birth of a new body and the incarnation of a new soul. This is also the spiritual, emotional, or psychological rebirth that arises from alignment, initiation, emancipation, passage, and connection. Understand, this is a rebirth not because of some deep esoteric or spiritual necessity. This is a rebirth because the violence of Toxic Socialization has disconnected and damage the Bodily Ego to the point where healing and reconnection is required.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this archetype represents physical creation, the ongoing evolution of The Body, your physical unit, this planet, and all life on it. This is Kether's initial and ongoing realization in Malkuth, and the divine design, preparation, and support that brings us all home. At the highest and most aligned levels, birth is not an event, it is a process of evolutionary becoming.

At mundane levels, this archetype represents birth or rebirth of an idea into reality. This is the fecund product of the union of force and formation. This archetype also represents authentic societal and social support networks (institutions, parents, family, friends, professional networks, etc.) that enable and support new and ongoing evolution, birth, rebirth, and creation.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to the expression/manifestation of Self, whether that is in the output of material creations or the actual emergence of Self, expressing properly through the physical unit.

Positive and aligned, things are going well. Force and formation in balance and working together, you're pushing forward to vibrant new birth. The process can be painful and traumatic sometimes, no doubt about that, but perseverance is what makes the birth happen. Positive alignments indicate supporting and nurturing environments that contribute and support ongoing emanation, or spectacular and joyous new birth, or rebirth. Parents, teachers, friends, and healers support and encourage. Properly nurtured and supported, the Self easily emerges.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, this archetype indicates oppressions, controls, and diminishments that lead to stillbirth, or that atrophy creation. Improper, even toxic, environments undermine gestation and development. Rejection, exclusion, shaming, and other forms of violence keep self in defensive mode. Your sacrifice leads not to joyful mastery, but to suffering and self-harm. Consequences accrue over time. Degeneration, disease, disability, and death rise on the road to meet you.

Your mind and body are under assault. Overbearing and abusive authority figures and toxic social networks destroy. Violence of various forms abounds. The seedling is being stomped underfoot. Something must be done, else you deteriorate, diminish and die.

Healing and connection message: Desperate for acceptance and approval, or anxious to avoid punishment, we are easily distracted and led astray. Over time, we diminish, become reactive, and grow violent. To overcome the damage, take control of your life, and your rebirth. Evaluate family and friendship networks. Avoid the spiritual plague of toxic relationships. Facilitate healing, growth, and the rebirth of Consciousness by implementing strict boundaries. Reject all forms of violence (emotional, psychological, physical, and spiritual). Create nurturing and supportive spaces. Do not offer compromise for we all deserve only the best.

ACTIVATION

Activation

Key Phrase: It is time I activate the Master within me.

Symbolism: Realization, alignment, and emancipation lead finally to initiation, rebirth, and physical activation. Force/formation applied in appropriate balance; reality begins to align. Reality begins to transform. Blockage and obstacles to healing and connection, symbolized by clouds in the sky, begin to disperse. Intentions coalesce. Energies crackle.

Narrative: This archetype teaches of individual (and collective) activation. After preparations are complete, after the Physical Unit is prepared and aligned, after force and formation are in balance, after you emancipate yourself from limitation and mental slavery, this is the rise of your power.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is the transformative “pop” that arises from mass individual (i.e. collective) activation. Blockages have disintegrated. Resistances have evaporated. Barriers have collapsed. Bindings have fallen away.

The movement of billions transforms the world.
Self emerges fully in the world.

At mundane levels, this is individual empowerment and advancement on the Path. Having established Right Thought and created Right Environment, you embrace with confidence your Highest Self. Now that you consistently engage in Right Action, you reclaim original power. Activated and fully aware, you move forward and create the world that you came here to create.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your physical actions in the physical world, or lack thereof. Alignments indicate pathologies, people, and institutions that either support or subvert transformation.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents nothing more nor less than the activation that occurs as Consciousness descends into the body. The more aware and awake you are, the more motivated you are to change, and the more empowered you are to do so. You may feel activation as energetic sensations, pins and needles, rippling throughout your body. Tingling scalp, vivid dreams of coffins and rebirth, lightning, electricity, and power provide clues. You are ready, willing, and able to make some changes. After responding to the call, after realization of truth, preparation and initiation, after alignment and even brief connection, we tune in, turn on, and empower. The Light of Consciousness fills the entirety of your sky. Energy crackles all around. Disease, ill health, darkness, and death fall away. The launch sequence has begun. Positive alignments indicate people and institutions that support activation, empowerment, and the transformation required for graduation.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, you struggle to activate but are stuck. Old ways are clearly not working, but you stick with them nevertheless. Pressure to empower and do something builds, but you resist and refuse. You profess understanding, but exhibit only confusion. You exclaim the highest enlightenment, but are a victim of disease and decay. You claim action, but subvert transformation at every step. Chronic repression and self-delusion lead to jeopardy at all levels of your being. Confusion, disorientation, paroxysm, and eruption ensue. Negative alignments indicate fears that prevent us from empowering, and people or institutions that work against activation.

You struggle to break free but are thwarted at every turn.

Healing and connection message: There is nothing particularly onerous and dangerous about activation. In a physical unit fully awakened and prepared, in an environment and on a world fully supportive, it is the realization of your powerful Self, and the manifestation of joyful mastery. It might be shocking if you have never experienced the reality of your own Highest Self, but if you stick with it, the shock gives way and mastery emerges. If you struggle to maintain your center, take time to refocus. If connection throws you off balance, get help and take a little more time to prepare. Even baby steps forward is fine. As you are able, embrace your full light and activate. When you are ready, with confidence, move forward.

Lightworker

Key Phrase: A new light is born in the world.

Symbolism: A multidimensional figure representing your Highest Self (soul, atman, etc.) as it emanates and “descends” into physical creation. The figure holds the light of Consciousness in its hands, presenting it to itself and working with itself at each new level of unfolding. The Light of Consciousness, the Light of God, the light of your own Highest Self, as it is reflected and refracted within you and the physical universe. The nude figure indicates your Light is as yet unencumbered by the dirt and detritus of disconnected physical existence. The diminishing figure indicates our connection and power dim as we descend into the cold, opaque, and unascended physical universe.

Narrative: This archetype teaches a sacred truth, which is that we are all sparks of eternal Consciousness, that we all “descend” into physical manifestation, and that we all hold the Light of Consciousness so we can uplift and ascend physical creation.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is the Light of your Highest Self as it, as You, pass into physical existence in order to incarnate and complete The Great Work. You are a lightworker and you should know, this work is for the greatest good of all beings, and not just a select chosen few.

At mundane levels, this is positive recognition and affirmation of Self, and positive and life-affirming work. This is, psychologically, the healing and exaltation of the Bodily Ego as it unites and merges with its own Highest Self (i.e. its own Spiritual Ego). This is self and Self, reunited. A creative and healthy emanation.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your highest purpose, which is full expression as an active and empowered lightworker, a star working towards completion of The Great Work (i.e. victory and planetary graduation).

Positive and aligned, this is you, this is us all, as lightworkers in the world. A bright light formerly hidden and obscured activates and finally begins to shine forth. An individual who has avoided higher purpose finally accepts there's a higher plan.

Illusion is dispelled. Darkness is dispersed. Truth is revealed. Positive alignments represent those who recognize, support, offer guidance, and provide assistance for your light work. Recognizing source and inner being, you step out into the world and are supported in your expression and purpose. No longer is there any self-doubt. External resistance now falls away. A new and powerful light(worker) is born and emerges brightly to work on the world.

Blockage and challenge: You wander aimlessly trying to find your way home. Insights and awareness are submerged beneath guilt, shame, anger, hatred, fear, etc. Guidance, if available, is solipsistic and self-interested as opposed to selfless, universal, and Self-interested. Negative alignments indicate that growing dissatisfaction with the status quo and rising pressure to change are met with resistance and subversion. Intense pressure to awaken, empower, and embrace destiny and purpose are actively and pathologically opposed. You sense your purpose and grow more aware of your identity and power, but fear, self-doubt, anxiety, lack of support, and repressive assault undermine you. Over concern with the opinions of others dims the Light within. You are thwarted at every turn.

Healing and connection message: Your transition to lightworker has come. Reject limitation. Overcome doubt. Dismiss those who resist from your spaces. Reprogram your thoughts. Be confident in your joyful self. Remember, the lightworker does not hide their light, for they see that the people are in need. The lightworker does not shirk responsibility, because the world has no choice now but to change. Embracing the truth and never shirking from aligned duty to self, the lightworker steps up and shines forth. Strength rises up and power begins to crackle. Your light shines bright and blinding. Bringing forth the truth, power, and love of Consciousness, you begin to transform the world.

Power

Key Phrase: My power and glory.

Symbolism: An empowered figure in a fully activated physical unit embraces their divine creative power and brilliance. Unencumbered by archetypes of limitation and oppression, copious energies flow freely. Fully connected and aligned, the figure embraces highest purpose. Consciousness explodes into the world. Knocked off balance by the power of Highest Self, the disconnected stumble and fall. This is the creative power of Self, balanced by the full spectrum of Consciousness, expressed through an aligned and activated physical unit.

Narrative: This archetype teaches you about the full creative potential and power of a fully activated Physical Unit, and purposely aligned lightworker and, if you are not compassionate and careful, the consequences to those who still struggle with disconnection.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this is Consciousness descended and the empowering impact thereof. Remember, power is not about personal will and selfish strength; it is about the potential of Consciousness to alter reality, transform the world, and graduate creation. Realizing the lightworker you are, realizing why you are here, you move forward and claim full power with gusto. Using your newfound powers, you ensure the final Triumph of Spirit (i.e. victory and graduation).

At mundane levels, this is power over your world. Confident in your identity and abilities, confident in your understanding of life, you use your skills to create the world you want. This is spirituality as realization of connection. This is science as a manifestation of the Consciousness and power of God.

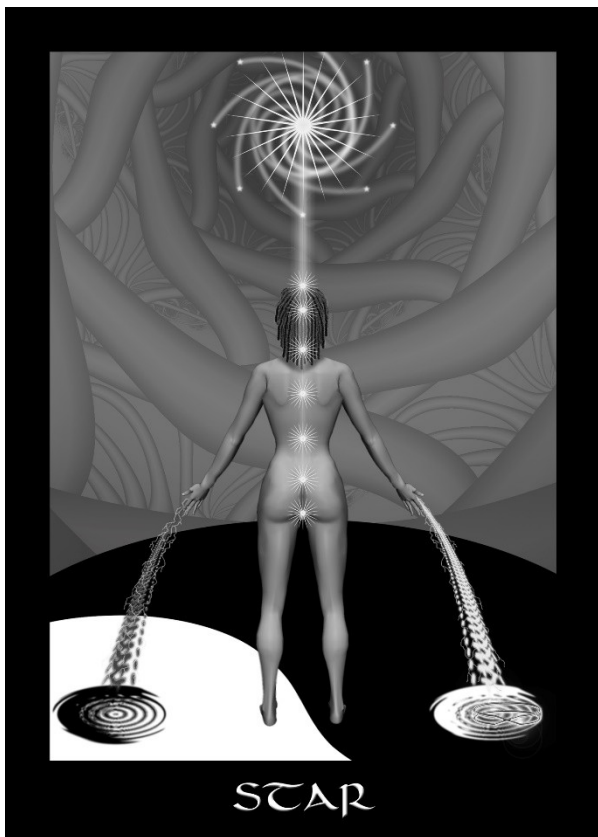

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your power. Do you understand it, or not? Have you embraced it, or what? There isn't any point in beating around the bush. Power and final victory come to those who complete The Work and The Great Work. Impotence and defeat come to those who remain unborn, unaligned, and disconnected.

Positive and aligned, this archetype indicates an empowerment. There have been psychological, emotional, spiritual, or physical obstacles that have kept you limited and diminished, but now you blast through the limitations. Feeling the awesome power, you wonder why you ever doubted yourself. Positive alignments indicate self-esteem, self-worth, strength, and support. Home spaces support your empowerment. Social relations exalt and celebrate. A massive shift is occurring or on the way. You are situated to help it along, if you embrace your full power.

Blockage and challenge: this archetype indicates passivity, obedience, and impotence, or the bullying use of power and force to dominate another. You have been called to awaken and transform, but you resist. Tired and beaten, you refuse to do the work. Fear of your Self's power, fear of repercussions, or simple disorientation and confusion, block you back up. You submit to The System and diminish. Alternatively, you find venal power and take it. You use power to dominate others and enrich yourself. You rise in the venal hierarchies, using up those that surround. "Friends" and acquaintances abound, but you are empty, miserable, and alone. Negatively aligned, you struggle to break free. Low self-esteem, doubts, issues, and people drag you down and bind you. The chains are too heavy. You fall into impotence and embrace a final defeat.

Healing and connection message: This archetype represents your power embraced. Unfortunately, embracing your power and glory is not an easy thing to do. Ideological, emotional, and psychological damage causes you to shrink from true power or grasp at venal substitutes. Remember, true power and strength comes with alignment with Self. Always remember, you are no Fool in School. You have the wisdom of eons and the full power of God deep within you. You are a joyful and powerful master of creation. Embrace your Highest Self. Take back your power. Take control and transform the world.

The Star

Key Phrase: This is me, fully activated and perfectly connected.

Symbolism: The yin/yang symbol on the floor symbolizes physical creation, the physical world, not cold, submerged, and disconnected as in sacrifice, but reflecting the will of Spirit, and created with balance and connection. The figure is shown connected to Source and fully activated. The figure pours balanced energy into, and uplifts, physical creation. Hands flowing energy, physical unit creating and manifesting the physical world, lifting it up to higher Consciousness. Star Consciousness incarnated. Aligned and efficient creation. The Master, fully engaged in light work. The Great Work nears its completion.

Narrative: This archetype represents a fully realized, activated, empowered, connected, and shortly victorious, lightworker, willfully undertaking The Great Work, which is the work of evolving and ascending creation. There is no longer any reason to fear, doubt, or deny. You are initiated and reborn, activated and empowered, and you are here to graduate the world.

At the highest and most aligned levels, this archetype represents integration of your power and mastery, realized in divine purpose. This is your inner divinity and powerful star-force shining brightly and rightly through. You are a powerful, willful, spark of co-creative brilliance. You are a star helping with manifestation and evolution of creation. You are a god in incarnation. Embrace this wonderful truth and let your star shine.

At mundane levels, this is identity and purpose realized and fully expressed. Self has merged with self and I and “i” are one. This is parenthood and work as a vocation. This is a career in alignment with Self. This is spirituality and religion fostering strong connection. This is science as a global avocation. This is a life lived with strength and in service to The Great Work. Life is not meaningless for the one who shines bright their own star.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype focuses attention on the successful completion of healing and reconnection. This difference between the Master and the Star is the difference between dim awareness and full connection. The difference between Joyful and the Star is the difference between the seedling and the full plant. Star is the end point on the path that the master joyfully stepped on.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents completion and integration, certainty, and the power and focus that comes from the enlightened confidence of accepting the creative power and light-being that you truly are. As Self becomes integrated with self, the masterful lightworker emerges and becomes a creative power. Alignments indicate supports for integration and completion, or any final obstacles that remain in the way. Positive alignments indicate archetypal clarity and the presence of pure and unconditional support. Your new energy ideas are clear, and the people around you advance with you. A graduation dance begins to emerge.

Blockage and challenges: You are almost there, but a blockage or two keeps you from integration, victory and full blow connection. It could be an emotion like fear. It could be a self-esteem issue. It could be a single Wrong Thought. It could be remaining toxicity. Whatever it is is, it is holding you back. Negative energies and negative orientations block insight and integration. You push your bright starlight away. Negative alignments indicate increasing difficulty, such as the damaging weight of toxic experience and the darkness of indoctrinated insentience. Ill and alone, submerged in a negative soup, you repeat toxic patterns. Repeated warnings are ignored. Now, you come to the end of your rope. A final warning is given. Wake up and head the call now.

Healing and connection message: It does not have to end in tragedy and debacle for anybody. To avoid a bitter end, trust in your self and create a positive world to surround you. Remember, you do not need to prove your worth, you do not need to pass judgment, and you do not need to secure yourself a ticket. The journey starts and ends within you. Make the right choice. Follow The Path. Emerge globally united. Uplift the planet. Awaken, activate, and transform.

Victory

Key Phrase: This is my Spirit triumphant.

Symbolism: The human body evolved, empowered, and connected. The Divine Spirit finally triumphant. Encased in flame, rising like a phoenix, you joyfully and powerfully rise. DNA fully actualized and divinity fully articulated, you welcome Highest Self. You rejoice as the body (and Body) connects and transforms. Universal energies provide the necessary force as the world realigns and transforms. Free to move forward, we all take the final step.

Narrative: This archetype represents the individual and collective Triumph of Spirit. This is complete connection, total empowerment, and personal and global transformation. This is ultimate victory, which is not simply the victory of Spirit over the body, but the victory of Spirit over the Body.

At the highest collective level, this archetype represents final triumphant ascension of the planet. This is The Great Work completed. Perhaps vestiges of the old world remain, perhaps people are still in need of assistance, but rapidly dissolving old energy power structures and increasingly sophisticated tools and techniques make it easier to heal, connect, and to help those who need assistance. Finally, the day of reckoning has arrived, and there is nothing but joyful celebration. Empowered and strong, we take the final collective step forward.

At mundane levels, this is a job well done, or a project well completed. Persistence, dedication, and training have paid off in the end. A job well done is a cause for jubilant celebration.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype draws attention to your victories and successes, or lack thereof. Pause and take a moment to assess. Are you completely satisfied with whatever it is you have created? Have you achieved all that you desire. Is your creation perfect just as it is? If not, where can improvements be made?

Positive and aligned, this archetype indicates integration and perfect connection, coupled with goal-directed transformative action that leads to fundamental personal and collective revolution. There is nothing left of the old energy in you. Alignments indicate archetypes that empower versus archetypes that deform, people who recognize and support you or who ignore and undermine you, and utopian versus toxic environments. Positive alignments indicate new energy archetypes, supportive environments, and a team well formed. Specific adjustments may be required here and there, but failing catastrophic and random disaster, you are close, or have achieved, your set goal.

Blockage and challenge: For some reason you fight with your Self. You struggle to accept your full power and glory and settle for a life lived in Normal Consciousness. Or, you presume you are superior (e.g., with “better genes.” “bluer blood.” etc.) than the rest. A weak foundation, lack of discipline, a toxic childhood, and shattered Bodily Ego overwhelm you. You fail to integrate new energy archetypes and instead engage in venal and selfish pursuits. Negatively aligned, the world around you is oppressive and attacks. Violence, aggression, and perversion of purpose disconnect you from your Soul. Assault and injury lead to defeat. Notice, you are not innocent in any regard. You participate in the dysfunction. You are the victim and the villain in your own horror show. Choose to change first or embrace bitter defeat.

Healing and connection message:In the end, victory comes to us all, but we may experience defeat along the way. It is never too late to try again, but a complete revision in thinking and behavior may be required. Toxic environments and past trauma weaken the body and disconnect it from Source; so, get out of toxic situations. Old ways of being and behaving no longer seem to work, so try new things. Old energy archetypes confuse and limit, so reprogram your thoughts with some new energy love. Do not hold onto old energy out of greed, hatred, or pride because if you do, bitter defeat is the result. The issue is before you and you need to make a choice. Continue in the old energy and the old ways and lose, or heal, connect, move forward into new energy, and claim final victory.

Graduation

Key Phrase: Joyfully I join the celebration.

Symbolism: The twelve figures represent the sum total of human life and planetary variation. These are the twelve signs of the zodiac and the rainbow spectrum of humanity. The figure in the center is the planet Gaia. The snake ouroboros is the Creation Template driving the endless ascent of creation, now finally complete on this Earth. A cosmic evolutionary dance with all life joining in. Gestation complete. Chrysalis transformation accomplished. The Body evolved and fully connected. Bondage broken. Humanity united. This is a graduation celebration. Vulnerable and exposed, but safe all the same, a world contact jubilation welcomes us home.

Narrative: This archetype represents the Great Work complete, and the graduation and associated celebration. Having responded to the call and reclaim joyful mastery, having emancipated and aligned, we activate and are reborn. Taking our power, we victoriously shine our bright star.

Consequently, darkness is swept away as the planet rapidly transforms.

At the highest and most aligned levels, we celebrate the culmination of human evolution and the fulfillment of the Divine Plan. United as one across the globe, we joyfully embrace a cosmic unity. A celebratory milestone welcomes us home, but this is not the end of our journey. This is merely the beginning of utopia. The ascent of the universe is an eternal voyage. Through the eternal hallways of creation, we build a galactic star nation.

At mundane levels, this is graduation and commencement. We have worked hard and sacrificed much. We have victoriously achieved the goal we have set for ourselves, so celebrations are in order. Don't rest too long however, for more work needs to be done.

Divination: Present in a reading or assessment, this archetype points our attention at our society, our nations, and the hold world. You do not have to love everybody, but nobody is excluded from the celebration. We need the skills and talents from the entire rainbow spectrum to complete the planet's asession.

Positive and aligned, this archetype represents a culmination and collective celebration. Somebody, or some group, has done something great. However, unlike victory which we feel as an individual triumph, this is a unified and collective rejoicing. Alignments indicate collective support or collective resistance. Positive alignments indicate collective unity, purpose, and will. The world around is on the same page.

Blockage and challenge: Negatively aligned, this archetype represents disappointment and failure. You have done some work, but as you look around you realize this is not what you sacrificed for, and nothing like you were promised. Confused and lost, you wander and wonder if it has all been a big, deceptive, lie.⁹ Negative alignments indicate internal and external resistances harsh-felt failure, rejection, exclusion, and extremely toxic social and work relationships. The cascading consequences of ubiquitous toxicity finally overwhelm the body. Emotional, psychological, and finally physical collapse ensues. General systemic collapse is the unfortunate result of failure to make the correct turn. In extreme negative aspect, this is reversal of the promise. Hatred, debilitation, debacle, holocaust, and mass death are the unfortunate result.

⁹Hint, it has.

Healing and connection message: The idea of the end can be fearsome and frightening for some, and it should be. The choice of the path and the choices you make along the way lead to an inevitable outcome, good or bad. In other words, not all paths lead you victoriously back home. This realization can bring a brutal reality crashing down with gut wrenching shock. The truth is, at the end of the road, you inevitably face the consequences of your good and bad choices. However, you can change the path and change the consequences by simply making a New Energy choice. Understand, there is neither punishment nor eternal damnation. There is no reason to sigh. There is no reason to die. In the new energy, mistakes are met with education and gentle support. Simply atone and try once again.

Attention Readers and Healers

When I say this deck is focused on healing work, I certainly mean that. This deck will help you heal yourself, but it can also help you heal others as well. It does this by acting as a spiritually sophisticated assessment tool. The TOSAS gives you the tools you need to help yourself or your clients a) identify ideas, behaviors, and environments that block, disconnect, and diminish, and b) change these ideas, behaviors, and environments so that they can better heal, awaken, activate, and connect.¹⁰

Of course, remember, it is always up to the individual whether they want to heal or not. Out of doubt, confusion, and fear, some people deny their realities and resist healing, even if they are actively seeking it out. If you do deal with people who deny and resist, do not wag your finger in judgment.

¹⁰ On the LP, we call this establishing right thought, right action, and right environment. Thus, this deck can help you and your clients establish right thought, right environment, and right action.

Instead, simply remind them of the natural consequences of their actions, and let them make their own decisions.

It works something like this: as any doctor will tell you, if a person eats a diet high in fat, sugar, and processed foods, they will develop chronic and degenerative diseases, and eventually die. If they wish, they can continue to eat diets high in processed fats and sugars; however, the consequences of their poor diet (heart disease, etc.) fall primarily to them, those whom they love, and those that love them.

It is the same with archetypes and creation templates. Thinking with toxic old energy creation templates, remaining in the toxic environments created by these templates, and acting in toxic ways (what on the LP we call wrong thought, wrong environment, and wrong action), will lead clients on a downward spiral towards physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual dysfunction. If they wish, they can continue to think with toxic ideas, live in toxic environments, and act out in toxic ways. If that is what they choose, that is fine. That is their choice. Do not judge. Simply remind them

(and yourself) there are natural consequences for their choices.¹¹

To begin an assessment

Mark your assessment space as sacred. You can look at the deck and browse it whenever you want; however, an assessment/reading (whether yours or someone else's) should be considered sacred. Mark your space as sacred in whatever way you like. Set an altar, light a candle or two, or whatever. If you are not big on ceremony, as I am not, a simple intent/mantra statement is sufficient. Something like...

¹¹ For a glimpse at the impact of toxic environments, and the many unfortunate psychological, emotional, and physical consequences of toxic environments, see my article Mike Sosteric, "Toxic Socialization," Socjour (2016).

“For the highest good of all.”

... will do.

If you are doing an assessment for yourself, recite the mantra as you shuffle the cards. If you are doing an assessment for another, have them recite the mantra as they cut/shuffle the cards.

General Guidance

When assessing for another, always explain the particular focus of the Triumph of Spirit deck before bringing it into your assessment/healing space. Say something like

This deck I am about to use is focused on emotional and psychological healing, and spiritual awakening and activation. Using this deck may trigger uncomfortable memories, insights, and realizations that require action and intervention. I may be able to help you with some of it, but if you have difficulties, get additional support and guidance from reputable professionals.

The above quotation is supplied as a card in the printed deck. If you prefer, you may show the supplied card “Lightning Strike” card. If your clients ask about “The Lightning Strike”, say that the lightning strike is a brilliant stroke of insight and realization that leads to insight, healing, transformation, and even enlightenment.

When assessing yourself, do not overdo it. Although you can do as many assessments for others as you are capable, do no more than one a week for yourself. Better yet, do an assessment for yourself only when called. Otherwise, you will find the energy and power of the cards is dispersed.

Always remember, this is a powerful deck and individuals should always know what they are getting into when they use it, not only for their sake, but for yours as well. Being explicit and open about what you are up to builds trust and helps the client make informed choices, the consequences of which they cannot lay at your feet.

Expanding your Connection

To do a proper assessment for yourself or another, be sure to expand your connection to Consciousness as you begin. When you are starting out, expand your connection only in calm, relaxed, and safe environments. To facilitate connection, draw and enforce boundaries (e.g., place a cocoon of light around your body, and the body of your client), take deep breaths, and slow down.¹² When you are calm, open, and slow, visualize a bolt of light flashing down into your brain. Take a final deep breath and begin.

¹² If you are highly sensitive, avoid caffeine and other harsher stimulants in periods immediately preceding your reading. Of course, if you are highly sensitive, it is probably best to avoid harsh stimulants at all times.

Read the card summaries and study the associated images. Let your training, expertise, and intuitive inner wisdom, flow.

If you are engaged in personal assessment or personal study, do not limit yourself to the temporal location of the assessment. If you remain open and receptive, insights may pop into your head hours and even days following a sacred spread.

Spreading the Cards

When you have marked your assessment space as sacred with an intent statement, and when you have paused to expand your connection, shuffle and cut the cards in whatever manner you choose. As you are cutting and shuffling, ask yourself a specific question, like “Why am I here?”, “What’s blocking me?”, “What do I need help with?”, or something similar. If you are doing work for a client assessment, ask them to state their question aloud, because it makes the assessment easier. If they do not want to state their question aloud, that is fine to.

Just before you (or your client) lays the cards on the table, determine if you prefer a one or a three card spread. When you have determined the spread, lay the cards out. If you are using the LP app,¹³ select a one or three card spread as per the client's choice, hand them the device, have them recite the mantra, and then instruct them to tap or shake the device.

For your information, a one-card spread is a single card placed on the table. The single card focuses attention on a specific idea, action, reaction, or environment relevant to the client's concerns or issues. A three-card spread represents a more complex view of concerns or issues, with a specific focus on supports and resistances. The three card spread looks like this:

A Q A

In a three-card spread, the card in the middle represents you or your client, the issue, the blockage, the environment, etc. It is the querent, query, or Q-card. The cards on the left and right are alignments. Alignments represent past, present, and potential emotional, psychological, spiritual, or physical realities, personal or collective. When alignment cards are upright, they usually represent positive and supportive things, conducive to forward movement, and encouraging of mental health. When alignment cards are reversed, they may be negative and undermining, presenting obstacles to forward movement, and encouraging anxiety, stress, and disease at all levels. Note, an upright card may find itself negatively aligned, indicating difficulties, challenges, oppression, and such.

¹³ <https://www.lightningpath.org/lp-app/>

More specifically, in a three-card spread, the card behind (i.e. the card to the left) represents influences that support and lift or, if reversed, create drag, drip toxicity, hamper progress, etc. The card in front (i.e., the card to the right) represents things that pull the client forward or, if reversed, suppress and oppress. Note that identifying negative alignments is not a judgment leading to punishment; it is an opportunity for correction and forward movement.

Assessment

The hardest part of reading the cards is synthesizing the information into an assessment. Doing a proper assessment is a complicated and involved task that I cannot go into here. However, a few general comments are in order.

To do a proper assessment, you need to understand the cards, be intuitively open, and be professionally skilled.

Note, past professional training is relevant, so do not be shy about drawing on your professional psychological, psychiatric, or other training.

Finally, keep in mind, the TOSAS system is embedded in the larger spiritual and intellectual context of the Lightning Path. For more Lightning Path, visit <https://www.lightningpath.org/>. For training aimed specifically at TOSAS assessment, <https://www.lightningpath.org/shop/instruction/>.

Attention LP Students

As LP students learn, spirituality is about connecting your bodily consciousness to your highest Consciousness.¹⁴ Spiritual systems are systems of thought designed to teach you how to connect. Spiritual practices are practices designed to help you make a connection to Consciousness. Spiritual tools are tools designed facilitate and support connection.

¹⁴ Mike Sosteric, Rocket Scientists' Guide to Authentic Spirituality (St. Albert, Alberta: Lightning Path Press, 2018).

You can use the TOSAS system as a spiritual tool to facilitate awakening, activation, and eventually, connection, because that is what it was designed for. It was designed to help you make a safe and pure spiritual connection.

As a spiritual aspirant after stronger and higher connection, you use the TOSAS in a beginner, intermediate, and advanced way.

When you use the cards at a beginner/awakening level, you are using them to help you awaken to your realities and heal from any damage you incurred.

When used at an intermediate/activation level, you are using the cards to remove old energy archetypes and replace them with new energy archetypes.

When used at an advance/ascension level, you use the cards as “channels” of connection through which you access pure new energies.

This book is focused on the beginner/awakening aspect of your study, although some intermediate and advanced elements are introduced here as well.

To use this book to help you awaken and heal, read through the entire book at least once, and then study cards individually after that.

To study cards individually,

First, state this mantra.

I want the truth and nothing but the truth, no compromise and no strings attached.

Second, pick a card that attracts your eye, or shuffle, cut, and pick the top card.

Third, learn the title.

Fourth, note and memorize the key phrase.

Fifth, learn the symbolism. The symbolism is explained in the symbolism paragraph. Don't rush through. Spend a moment or two on each sentence to make sure the meaning finds its way through.

Sixth, read the narrative. The narrative is the new energy “story” being told by the card. For example, the card Joyful is the story not of spiritual servitude and tutelage, but of your glorious and joyful incarnation.

Seventh, when you understand the narrative, read the “assessment” sections for healing and awakening insights.

Remember, do not rush through the descriptions. Take a moment or to grok¹⁵ each sentence and section.

Also, when you first go through this deck, it is best to keep a single card with you for a few days. While it is with you (i.e., in your purse, on your phone, etc.), continue to recite the memorized key phrase, read over the text, think about the symbolism, etc. During this process, try and keep yourself open to ideas and connections between the archetype and your own life. But, be discerning.¹⁶

Have an open mind, just don’t be an airhead.

¹⁵ The word grok (literally "to drink") is a word coined by science fiction writer Robert A. Heinlein in his book Stranger in a Strange Land to indicate deep understanding.

Not every connection you make, nor every insight that flashes, is meaningful or worthwhile. Because of the old energy archetypes implanted in us as children, and all the media reinforcement that goes on, some of the stuff that pops into your mind might be pure crap. Especially at the beginning, be careful. If you notice hatred, anger, hierarchy, violence, judgment, punishment, exclusion, guilt, shame, and things like that in your understandings and insights, something is off. Always keep your thoughts positive and inclusive by practicing good mental hygiene. Learn to control all of your body's thoughts, and reject those that are unworthy of your joyful, powerful, and masterful spiritual status.

Finally, at the start, I would not recommend you spend more than 45 minutes in any single session with any individual. Give yourself time and space to process, integrate, and ground things. If you move too fast, you will either spin your wheels in the ground or be overwhelmed by new information and new perspectives. Trust your gut on this. If you find yourself being confused and overwhelmed, step away for a few days.

¹⁶ For guidance on discernment, see Michael Sharp, Rocket Scientists' Guide to Spiritual Discernment (St. Albert, Alberta: Lightning Path Press, 2011).

ABOUT THE LIGHTNING PATH

The Lightning Path (or simply LP for short) is a modern system of human development that provides you with all the information you need to heal and connect more fully to the powerful Consciousness that resides within you. The LP is accessible to everyone regardless of race, class, gender, or age.

Visit <https://www.lightningpath.org>